

Dear One,

What can we say? We are not in your position and can't possibly understand all you are going through. But we want to start by thanking you for your courage, for your selflessness, for your strength, and for your love for your child. Whether we are the family you choose or not, we want you to know that we have been praying for you. It is natural to pray for the child we hope God will place in our family, but that is not enough. You are also important and God has told us to pray for you as well. We have been praying since this journey began that somehow, even in the scariest and most unsure times, you would know that you are loved!

Let us tell you a little about ourselves. Adam is a Physician Assistant and Denise is a massage therapist and we live in a beautiful home right in the foothills of Colorado Springs. We met in 2008 when both of us were getting our bachelor degrees at UCCS. After four years of close friendship we decided to date, which lasted a whole four months before Adam proposed and threw Denise a surprise wedding (NO JOKE!). It's been a wonderful journey ever since. We are best friends. We laugh together, support each other, and most importantly we face all the twists and turns of life together.

We were surprised when we didn't get pregnant right away, but in prayer felt that God was asking us to wait on His timing. In early 2018 we both had a strong sense that He was leading us to move forward with adoption, something that has been on our heart for years, and so our journey began. God has blessed us with each other and we would love to share our lives with a child. We also look forward to the opportunity of developing a relationship with you if that is your desire. We do believe that an open relationship is best for the child as the Bible says, "the truth will set you free."

We will not pretend to know the trial you are experiencing, but we will be honored to walk with you through it. Thank you for taking the time to learn a little more about us. May the Lord grant you wisdom in the decisions before you, filling you with a peace that only He can give.

With our love and prayers,

Adam and Denise
