

A big HELLO from Brandon and Summer. We understand that this may be coming to you at a difficult time in your life. We look forward to getting to meet you and hope to be considered for the privilege of being part of your child's life. We are a fun, little bit quirky, and outgoing family.

We enjoy many hobbies but two of our favorites include our two playful dogs, Pepper and Salvy. They love to play, snuggle, are great with kids and will absolutely invade your personal space. In addition to our family fur balls we enjoy active outdoor activities and attending various sporting events.

We have been married over 10 years and came to live in Colorado a little over three years ago moving from Kansas City. From KC we inherited our love for baseball, BBQ, and a midwest attitude. All of which tend to seep into our personalities.

Brandon works in the financial industry, is an avid runner, and recently started tinkering with triathlons. Summer is a teacher who enjoys reading and shopping. We love doing things as a family like hiking, traveling, fishing, and spending time with friends. Really exploring and new adventures rule the day.

We both would love to have children in our lives and help guide them through all the seasons and ups and downs. We know that there will be challenging times but also know the rewarding times are irreplaceable. We also can't wait for the many yet unknown adventures a child will lead us into.

We have a close extended family. Brandon's parents live nearby here in Colorado and would love to help with baby sitting and day care. They look forward to being grandparents and spoiling a young child. Summers parents and siblings all live in the Kansas City area and we have made holiday traditions getting the families together.

We look forward to getting to know you and developing a relationship with you. We believe it is important for the child to know their birth family. We are excited to get to know you and hear your story. We feel so blessed that you would consider us.

~Sincerely,
Brandon and Summer