

Dear EXPECTANT PARENT(S) ~

We realize you are looking through many profiles. We will try to make this easier for you by keeping ours short and sweet.

Major and I have been married for almost 3 years. We met online, which is shocking for me. I don't use social media, but I decided to use it for 2 weeks and that's how I met Major. We dated a year before getting married at our church. We had a simple wedding with friends and family - a brunch reception at our church. After getting married, we took a 4,000-mile road trip with our dog Bosco to see family and friends that weren't able to make it to our wedding.

Our relationship has been filled with fun, love, tears and tons of respect. Major surprised me with our house. He had already bought it when he asked me if I wanted to go look at a house. We walked around looking at it, and I said let's put in an offer for it. I wasn't looking for much in a home - a window over the kitchen sink, so I could look outside; light and bright and a good-size yard with big trees. He did it! That day we looked at the house, he handed me a card. I opened it and he wrote, "Welcome Home." He had a skeleton key in the card for dramatic effect. I cried my bloody eyes out! Because of the previous years of heartaches, I couldn't believe I had found a man so thoughtful and loving.

Thank you for considering us to raise your child. There is no greater sacrifice than the one you are facing. We realize this is one of the hardest decisions you'll make in life. We hope after reading about our family, we'll make your decision easier.

Major will be an amazing role model and father for your child. He's gentle, nurturing, fun and thoughtful. As far as your child's adoptive mother, I will protect and nurture your child and be thankful everyday for the gift you've given us to raise and love your child.

Our hope is for you to be a part of our family along with your child. This is only if you wish to be. We wish you all the best for your future!

Major, Shana & Bosco
